HAROLD:

I'll push them if you'll send me that answer: exactly -- by name or group -- the question, "If Oswald didn't do it, who did?" I asked Dick yesterday if he -- who is not behind in his reading and who has presumably read Whitewash IV -- knew the answer; he says he doesn't know either. Everyone is waiting.

You say in your letter of 7/10, "Things I cannot mention are developing. This may soon be more exciting than you can guess, and guess widly." Why don't you guess widdly in your piece for me.

Why have you had little reaction from to the Khiss story?

Can you send me a transcript of that taped interview by Dan Andrews -- and the circumstances thereof? I don't want to bother Dick with this inquiry.

I do hope to get a useable piece from you, Harold,

by Aug. 25, in time for our Sept. issue.

Sincerely,

Jerry
